Air-Conditioning in Modern American Architecture, 1890-1970 Joseph M. Siry,2021-02-01 Air Conditioning in Modern American Architecture 1890-1970 documents how architects made environmental technologies into resources that helped shape their spatial and formal aesthetic In doing so it sheds important new light on the ways in which mechanical engineering has been assimilated into the culture of architecture as one facet of its broader modernist project Tracing the development and architectural integration of air conditioning from its origins in the late nineteenth century to the advent of the environmental movement in the early 1970s Joseph M Siry shows how the incorporation of mechanical systems into modernism's discourse of functionality profoundly shaped the work of some of the movement's leading architects such as Dankmar Adler Louis Sullivan Frank Lloyd Wright Ludwig Mies van der Rohe Gordon Bunshaft and Louis Kahn For them the modernist ideal of functionality was incompletely realized if it did not wholly assimilate heating cooling ventilating and artificial lighting Bridging the history of technology and the history of architecture Siry discusses air conditioning's technical and social history and provides case studies of buildings by the master architects who brought this technology into the conceptual and formal project of modernism A monumental work by a renowned expert in American modernist architecture this book asks us to see canonical modernist buildings through a mechanical engineering oriented lens It will be especially valuable to scholars and students of architecture modernism the history of technology and American history

Frank Lloyd Wright Paul Laseau, James Tice, Frank Lloyd Wright, 1992 Despite the renewed interest in Frank Lloyd Wright and the increasing body of literature that has illuminated his career the deeper meaning of his architecture continues to be elusive His own writings are often interesting commentaries but tend not to enlighten us as to his design methodology and it is difficult to make the connection between his stated philosophy and his actual designs This book is a refreshing account that evaluates Wright s contribution on the basis of his architectural form its animating principle and consequent meaning Wright s architecture not his persona is the primary focus of this investigation This study presents a comprehensive overview of Wright s work in a comparative analytical format Wright s major building types have been identified to enable the reader to pursue a more systematic understanding of his work The conceptual and experiential order of each building group is demonstrated visually with specially developed analytical illustrations These drawings offer vital insights into Wright s exploration of form and underscore the connection between form and principle The implications of Wright s work for architecture in general serves as an important underlying theme throughout This volume also integrates the research of several noted scholars to clarify the interaction of theory and practice in Wright s work as well as the role of formal order in architectural experience in general By seeing how Wright integrates his intuitive and intellectual grasp of design the reader will build a keen awareness of the rational and coherent basis of his architecture and its symbiotic relationship with emotional qualitative reality A graphic taxonomy of plans of Wright s building designs helps the reader focus on specific subjects Among the diverse areas covered are sources and influences of Wright s work domestic themes and variations public buildings and skyscraper designs and the influence of site on design Complete with a chronology of the master architect s work Frank Lloyd Wright Between Principle and Form is an important reference for students architects and architectural historians

Translucent Building Skins Scott Murray, 2013-05-07 Exploring the design of innovative building enclosure systems or skins in contemporary architecture and their precedents in earlier twentieth century modern architecture this book examines the tectonics the history and the influence of translucency as a defining characteristic in architecture Highly illustrated throughout with drawings and full colour photographs the book shows that translucency has been and continues to be a fertile ground for architectural experimentation Each chapter presents a comparative analysis of two primary buildings a recent project paired with a historical precedent highlighting how architects in different eras have realized the distinctive effects of translucency The included buildings span a variety of program types ranging from a single family residence to a factory to a synagogue Whether it is Pierre Chareau s glass lens curtain wall at the Maison de Verre Frank Lloyd Wright s wall of stacked glass tubes at the Johnson Wax Research Tower or Peter Zumthor s use of acid etched glass in a double skin envelope at the Kunsthau Bregenz the included projects each offer an exemplary case study of innovations in materiality and fabrication techniques Today among many contemporary architects there is an engagement with new technologies new material assemblies and new priorities such as sustainability and energy efficiency A resurgent interest in translucency as a defining quality in buildings has been an important part of this recent dialogue and this book makes essential reading for any architect looking to incorporate aspects of translucency into their buildings Building Knowledge, Constructing Histories Ine Wouters, Stephanie Voorde, Inge Bertels, Bernard Espion, Krista Jonge, Denis Zastavni, 2018-09-05 Building Knowledge Constructing Histories brings together the papers presented at the Sixth International Congress on Construction History 6ICCH Brussels Belgium 9-13 July 2018 The contributions present the latest research in the field of construction history covering themes such as Building actors Building materials The process of building Structural theory and analysis Building services and techniques Socio cultural aspects Knowledge transfer The discipline of Construction History The papers cover various types of buildings and structures from ancient times to the 21st century from all over the world In addition thematic papers address specific themes and highlight new directions in construction history research fostering transnational and interdisciplinary collaboration Building Knowledge Constructing Histories is a must have for academics scientists building conservators architects historians engineers designers contractors and other professionals involved or interested in the field of construction history Frank Lloyd Wright Robert McCarter, Kenneth Frampton, 1991 Abstract essence drawing Wright from the obvious Robert McCarter Academic tradition and the individual talent similarity and difference in the formation of Frank Lloyd Wright Patrick Pinnell Evolution of the prairie house Werner Seligmann Form and philosophy Froebel's kindergarten training and the early work of Frank Lloyd Wright Richard MacCormac The text tile tectonic the origin and evolution of Wright's woven architecture Kenneth Frampton Rewriting The natural house Archie Mackenzie Consecrated space the public buildings of Frank Lloyd Wright Jonathan Lipman The art of the square that most traditional architect Frank Lloyd Wright Analysis of the Larkin building fugue on the theme of the cube Otto Graf The integrated ideal ordering principles in the architecture of Frank Lloyd Wright Robert McCarter Frank Lloyd Wright and Le Corbusier Richard A.
