New German Literature Julian Preece, Frank Finlay, Ruth J. Owen, 2007 Twenty five essays by scholars from the UK Ireland Germany and Australia explore two aspects of new German language literature The first dozen studies focus on the variety and depth of the dialogue in the sense of reciprocal influences between literature photography film painting architecture and music The remaining essays alight on Life Writing in most of its forms diaries memoirs autobiographies and autobiographical fiction and examine its centrality in recent years in German literature not least because of the shadow which World War Two continues to cast over national life Siegfried's Curse; the German Journey from Nietzsche to Hesse Wayne Andrews,1972 German history from Bismarck to Hitler Kafka's Rhetoric Clayton Koelb,1989 Kafka's Narrative Theater James Rolleston,1974 Can one speak of Kafka's heroes as characters If so why is it so hard to define their characteristics If not how is the reader persuaded to accompany them on their existential journeys accepting their behavior as falling within the realm of human logic This study argues that Kafka's fiction has two conflicting premises the subjective impossibility of human existence foreclosing all hope of meaning in individual actions and the ordered structure of human thoughts which assign meaning to the smallest event and analyze endlessly the behavior of other people Kafka's characters are always either potentially or actually moving in both directions at once earnestly building up a continuous logic to their actions while skeptically dismantling their own pretensions to existence The device of the circumscribed narrator congruent with the hero knowing only what the hero knows yet not identical with him enables Kafka to contain both fundamental tendencies in a single sentence Although Kafka is widely read his works seem to give rise very easily to misconceptions this study is designed primarily to facilitate an intelligent reading of Kafka Without imposing answers of its own it seeks to foster an awareness of the problems of perspective and presentation which Kafka engages The Esoteric Composition of Kafka's Corpus Lawrence Nannery,2006 Deutsches Bucherverzeichnis ,1988 Bde 16 18 21 and 28 each contain section Verlagsveränderungen im deutschen Buchhandel CliffsNotes on Kafka's The Trial Herberth Czermak,1976-09 Kafka's books are filled with the blurring of reality and dreams The real world is never enough for Kafka's characters and they are always left yearning for a firm metaphysical anchor that they can never quite grasp This book describes a man's persecution by an overwhelming power Kafka's Doubles Kurt J. Fickert,1979 The basic conflict in Franz Kafka's life and work involved his two selves Dichter and bureaucrat Kafka's Doubles explores the result of this dichotomy the doubling which is a prominent literary feature of the Kafka canon There are two kinds of doubles in Kafka autoscopic pairs that is twins occur in The Trial in Blumfeld and The Castle Despite their prominently physical similarity they have traits which distinguish one from the other in this way they represent the divided self More frequently found are dissociative doubles separate and physically distinct characters who represent two aspects of one self In this study the device of doubling its literary forebears and its psychological nuances are considered with a view to clarifying some of the obscurity in Kafka's work without attacking its ambiguity Canadian Review of Studies in Nationalism ,1981 The Making of Czech Jewry Hillel J. Kieval,1988 Kieval charts the development of the Czech Jewish movement and Prague Zionism up to the start of the First Czechoslovak Republic offering a new picture the first in English of the social and cultural life of Central European Jewry at the turn of the century
